EMI Share Options: The Complete Guide written by David Cohen at Norton Rose, one of the acknowledged industry experts in this field.

The Enterprise Management Incentive Scheme (EMI) is a highly flexible and tax efficient scheme designed specifically for smaller companies. No tax or NICs are due on the grant or exercise of a qualifying option under the Enterprise Management Incentive as long as the exercise price is not less than fair market value at the date of grant. On sale of the shares acquired through an EMI share option scheme, gains will be taxed as capital gains.

At the end of 2012 the Government indicated it will extend capital gains tax entrepreneurs' relief to shares acquired through the exercise of EMI share options. Legislation will be introduced to extend the relief to EMI shares by removing the 5 per cent minimum shareholding requirement and allowing the 12 month minimum holding requirement to commence on the date the option is granted. This measure applies to shares acquired on or after 6 April 2012 that are disposed of on or after 6 April 2013. These measures are guaranteed to make EMI schemes more popular and will increase work in this area for practitioners.
